

PRESIDENT OBAMA

Please FULFILL YOUR PROMISE TO PROTECT OUR ROADLESS NATIONAL FORESTS

Catch a glimpse OF THE PRISTINE
TONGASS
NATIONAL FOREST

...BEFORE IT'S too late!

For generations, our National Forests have been part of the American tradition—offering outstanding opportunities for hiking, hunting, and fishing. Our forests provide clean drinking water, are havens for fish and wildlife, and offer solitude and beauty for all to enjoy. President Obama, along with millions of Americans, supported the 2001 Roadless Rule, which protects 58.5 million acres of National Forests from road building, logging and other industrial activity. With wild forests like the Tongass now at risk, it is time to uphold and defend the Roadless Rule in its entirety. President Obama, please keep your pledge, and keep our National Forests intact by upholding the 2001 Roadless Area Conservation Rule.
