

For pregnant mothers in Michigan, it may take months to see the effects of mercury poisoning.

Right now, in our area, cement kilns are poisoning the air, water and land with mercury that's dangerous to our health. And the EPA is doing nothing to stop them. Tell the EPA to follow the Clean Air Act and limit mercury pollution from cement kilns. Send an e-mail: a-and-r-docket@epa.gov, fax: (202) 566-1741 or go to earthjustice.org/cement.
